Financial Inclusion in Malawi BNL Times

Malawi's BNL Times, covers IPA & The Bankers Association of Malawi's conference Achieving Better Banking in Malawi. As the articles describes:

The conference was a partnership between IPA and Bam and brought together practitioners and policy makers to discuss empirical evidence on financial inclusion from randomized evaluations conducted by IPA and its partners in Malawi and other countries.

Munthali said the research findings points to a need to dig deeper to find out what works when designing financial inclusion programmes.

"The question remains as to whether the many activities outlined in the financial inclusion strategy will be effective at delivering the desired outcomes, particularly around savings behavior," said Munthali.
