

IPA Zambia and Varkey Foundation Co-Present on MGCubed

IPA Zambia Policy Associate Nampaka Nkumbula (left) presenting at the event to the First Lady of the Republic of Zambia, FAWE Chairperson, and Minister of General Education.

Innovations for Poverty Action Zambia co-presented with the Varkey Foundation on August 23-24 in Lusaka. The theme of the event, the Forum for African Women Educationalists (FAWE) at the 10th General Assembly, was "Towards Gender Equality in Education, Positioning Youth to Champion Africa's Education Agenda." This high-level conference was attended by The First Lady of the Republic of Zambia (pictured above), Ministers of Education from the region, and international and local NGOs.

Leandra Dowley, Country Director of Varkey Foundation Ghana, and Nampaka Nkumbula, IPA Zambia Policy Associate, presented evidence from the study "Making Ghanaian Girls Great!" and participated in a lively panel discussion on innovations and programmes that are successfully addressing second generation obstacles to girls' education and contributing to gender equality.

During parallel sessions, IPA Zambia also exhibited with the Ministry of General Education on the GIRCS Inequality programme and other evidence on empowering girls.

Researcher: Jane Johnston (Stanford University School of Medicine), Christopher Kasil (Mathematica Policy Research)

Partner: Varkey Foundation

IPA Zambia Co-Hosts Event on Interpersonal Communication to Encourage Use of Female Condoms in Zambia

Lead researcher Thawago during the presentation.

On November 7, 2017, Innovations for Poverty Action Zambia and Society for Family Health (SFH) co-hosted a dissemination meeting of initial findings from the study An Impact Evaluation of the Introduction of a New Women's Condom on Overall Condom Use in Urban Lusaka, Zambia, conducted by Thawo Ng'o and Jessie Pinchoff from Population Council, and Rachna Nag Chowdhuri from the World Bank. The event was

Zambia Bulletin Volume 9-10

IPA Zambia is pleased to share its final bulletin from 2017. This bulletin features updates from our Saving for Safe Delivery study and the scale-ups of the food constraints and Catch Up projects. This bulletin also highlights IPA Zambia's dissemination events for the "Making Ghanaian Girls Great!" and "Interpersonal Communication to Encourage Use of Female Condoms in Zambia" studies.

January 16, 2018