

Date

December 05, 2023

Advancing Good Governance and Sustainable Peace: Driving Action with Rigorous Research

Hosted by: J-PAL & IPA

Timeline: 5 December 2023 - 9:00am to 5:00pm GMT (4:00am to 12:00pm EST)

Location: One Birdcage Walk, London

Partner:

Foreign, Commonwealth
& Development Office

Launched in 2017, J-PAL and IPA's Governance, Crime, and Conflict Initiative (GCCCI) is celebrating six years of supporting the generation of cutting-edge experimental research on topics central to good governance, crime prevention, peacebuilding, and post-conflict recovery.

This day-long event will showcase emerging insights from the GCCCI research portfolio, with panels exploring:

- Strategies to strengthen or supplement state capacity and reduce corruption in fragile and conflict-affected contexts;
- Tools for building or restoring social cohesion for populations recovering from conflict or experiencing displacement;
- Governance strategies for enforcing and incentivizing compliance with environmental regulations, as a tool to mitigate climate change;
- And more.

Register to attend the event

Bringing together academic researchers, policymakers, civil society organizations, and others, we will reflect on emerging insights for policy and programming from this research portfolio and build consensus on a forward-looking research agenda by discussing where critical evidence gaps remain. Participants will gain valuable insights into how research findings can inform evidence-based policy decisions to contribute to more effective governance and peacebuilding approaches.

A complementary J-PAL event will also take place in the same location the day before, on December 4. This event will feature groundbreaking multidisciplinary governance research and foster cross-disciplinary connections as part of a greater Governance Initiative-led effort to encourage economists to collaborate with researchers from other disciplines and leverage their methodologies, insights, and tools to strengthen their work. To learn more, visit the event webpage. Stay tuned for our detailed agenda and speaker list, coming in the next several weeks.

Learn about GCCI

The Governance, Crime, and Conflict Initiative (GCCI)—jointly run by J-PAL and IPA, with support from the UK Foreign, Commonwealth & Development Office (FCDO) —funds cutting-edge and policy-relevant research. Comprised of J-PAL’s Governance Initiative and Crime and Violence Initiative, and IPA’s Peace & Recovery Program, our research focuses on how to strengthen governance, reduce crime and violence, and address the causes of instability and insecurity in conflict settings.

GCCI arose out of the recognition that while the share of the global population living in extreme poverty has fallen substantially over the past four decades, progress remains uneven. Countries facing political instability, conflict, and violence have experienced increasing rates of poverty during this same period. Thus, GCCI emerged in 2017 to investigate potential solutions and increase rigorous evidence on these urgent topics. To date, GCCI has funded over 130 policy-relevant research projects across 30 countries reducing violence and fragility, promoting peace, and preventing, coping with, and recovering from crises.

For any questions, please email Alex Chen at achen@povertyactionlab.org or Aprille Knox at aknox@povertyactionlab.org.

Speakers

- Ceren Baysan, Assistant Professor of Economics, University of Toronto & Adjunct Professor, Bahçeşehir University
- Michael Callen, Professor of Economics, London School of Economics
- Katherine Casey, Associate Professor of Political Economy, Stanford Graduate School of Business

- Oeindrila Dube, Philip K. Pearson Professor of Global Conflict Studies, University of Chicago
- Frederico Finan, Professor of Economics, University of California, Berkeley
- Adnan Khan, Chief Economist and Director for Economics and Evaluation Directorate in the Foreign, Commonwealth & Development Office (FCDO)
- Salma Mousa, Assistant Professor of Political Science, UCLA
- Rohini Pande, Henry J. Heinz II Professor of Economics and Director of Economic Growth Center, Yale University
- Jonathan Weigel, Assistant Professor, University of California, Berkeley

Further speakers are to be announced.